M'CHESNEY SHOWS HIS WORTH

GALLOPS AWAY FROM FIELD IN A MILE RACE.

Favorites for Once Have an Even Break with Outsiders at New Orleans-If You Dare Beats Speedy Lot-Reinstatement Expected for Our Jockeys.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 23 .- A. Coulois, turf editor of Le Sports of Paris, France, this afternoon in discussing the cases of Jockeys John Reiff and Milton Henry, who at present stand ruled off the French turf for fraud, said that both boys were innocent of any wrong and that they surely would be

McChesney was thrown into a race at a mile to-day and once more clearly demon-strated that he is the best horse quartered ere. Although McChesney carried only 13 pounds, the books took more than ordimary liberties, as they laid as good as 2 to 5 against his chances. From the drop of the fag to finish, the result was never in doubt. McChesney was off in front, but Redfern took him to the outside to escape the crowd-ing that occurred at the first turn and let Wealth go to the front. At the head of the stretch Redfern let out a link and McChesney raced past Wealth as though she was stand-ing still. McChesney finished hard held, winning by five open lengths of daylight

For the first time within the past week the talent managed to break even with the books. Benson Caldwell was boosted to 1,505 by a man named "Kansas" Pierce and bought in by his owner, J. Carroll. Hedge was also raised to $800 after he won the first race and was bought by Ed Trotter.

If You Dare, with plenty of weight of, took down the six-furiong handicap from a very speedy field. Carl Kahler, the favorite, had to do his best to secure the place by a head from Telamon.

Glendon the favorite in the opening event, had not speed and finished away back. The race was won by Hedge in a gallop by three lengths.

race was won by Hedge in a gallop by three lengths.

The second race was one of the prettiest of the day. Andes, the favorite, after a terrific struggle all down the stretch just got home by a length in front of O'Hagen. Benson Caldwell was the choice for the fith and was all out at the finish, winning by a head from Chickadce. Princess Tulane, who is a locally owned filly, won the sixth race.

Jack Munroe, the Anaconda miner, intends to invade England next summer. Since Munroe came to this city Clark Ball, his manager, has had several conferences with a well-known English fistic promoter, who said that if the Montana puglist went abroad he would make a lot of money. Ball said that the idea was a good one, and if he gets the sum he has asked for he will sign a con-tract before he leaves town. It is Ball's intention to have Munroe make a tour of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales and

It is not at all likely that Ball will secure Tommy Ryan to give the miner lessons in boxing. He has been given to understand that Ryan cannot find the timeto take the raw Westerner in tow. Munroe went to the New York A. C. yesterday and saw Prof. Mike Donovan They did not box as expected Billy Elmer will box with Munroe to-day and show Jeffries's late opponent a few points.

Separate Gymnasium for Barnard Girls.

Separate Gymnasium for Barnard Girls.

A movement has been started at Barnard College which promises to result in the fitting out of a separate gymnasium for the college. A committee was appointed several weeks ago by the associate alumnae for the purpose of conferring with Miss Laura Drake Gill, dean of the college as to what need of the college the alumnae might relieve. This committee, consisting of Miss Virginta C. Gildersleeve, '99, chairman: Miss Evelyn Osborne, 1800, and Miss Elsa Alsberg, '92, has come to an agreement with the dean that the need for gymnasium work is one of the most pressing. The new gymnasium for the women of Columbia University to be built on 120th street next to Teachers' College at an expense of $250,000, will not be completed until 1805 and objections have been made to the use of the present Columbia gymnasium by women.

The alumnæ committee have had assurances from Frederick A. Goetze, superintendent of buildings and grounds at Columbia that the hall in the basement of Brinckerhoff Hall at Barnard can be fitted up as a gymnasium. A plan for the equipment of this room as a gymnasium and the engagement of an instructor in gymnastic work for women is to be laid at once before the directors of the associate alumnae.

Dean Gill has recommended to the trustees of the college that there should be provided to satisfy an urgent need a "students' building for the physical needs of over four hundred students who spend about five hours a day on the college grounds."

A High-Speed Launch to Go With the Cup Defender.

Mr. C. Oliver Iselin has ordered from Charles Mr. C. Oliver Iselin has ordered from Charles F. Herreshoff of 18 Broadway, New York, a high-speed launch for use in connection with the new Cup defender, which Mr. Iselin is to command. The dimensions of this launch will be: 37 feet over all, 32 feet on waterline, 6 feet 2 inches beam, 2 feet draug it.

The launch is to be highly finished and equipped with two melon hoods in addition to the usual long fly awning. She will be fitted with a four-cycle, four-cylinder Howard motor, and the owner's expectation is that a speed of thirteen miles an hour is to be attained. In type she will resemble the Niagara III. and Scout.

It is thought probable that a prominent Philadelphia yachtsman will place an order for a duplicate launch within a few days.

One of the stanchest upholders of a special breed at the American bench shows, the Collie Club of America, is to hold its first annual show at Stamford on Feb. 6 and 7. The classification will be puppy, novice, limit, open and winners, besides a junior class for dogs under two years of age, and a veteran class for those over five years of age. There will also be a class only open to Stamford exhibitors. There are already over four hundred entries and the show will comprise many of the best collies in the country, whe will go from Stamford to the Westminster show in this city the next week. The judge will be R. A. Murray of Boston, who is also the treasurer of the club.

The Montreals are the champions of Canada and the Crescents are the champions Canada and the Crescents are the champions of this section, so the contest was one of more than ordinary interest. The score at the end was: Crescent, 5; Montreal, 4; and from the time the game began first one team and then the other would be in the lead. The Crescent team is made up largely of Canadian players. They were all friends of the visitors, and although the contest was fast and furious and many players were knocked over, the utmost good feeling prevailed and all bumps were taken good-naturedly. Charles McKenzie was the referee.

It was twenty minutes to 9 o'clock when the teams faced each other on the ice, and the attendance at the rink then was very large. Referee McKenzie called the players to-

The billiard room at Forty-second street and Broadway, which in its day was in the hands of two experts, is no more. It was closed for good last Tuesday night, the building having been condemned for subway-construction purposes. The room was opened by Frank Ives six years ago the 1st of next Februrary, and later was sold to Frank Draper. For the last three years it has belonged to Slosson & Wheelock.

Now that the business connected with the closing of the room is off Bosson's mind he will devote his time for the next few weeks to getting in trim for the tournament to be head next month.

He will sail for the other side on the Lucania to-day. "I think I've got a good chance," said the Bludent yesterday: "as good a chance as anybody else in the tournament. The ocean voyage will do me good and I'll have about two weeks for practice after I reach Paris."

Minus the services of George Davis, Dele-hanty and Elberfeld, the New York Baseball Club, through its secretary, Fred Knowles, returned yesterday from the eventful meeting in Cincinnati, which began in storm and ended in calm. On the same train with Knowles from Baltimore was Manager Han-lon of Brooklyn, who comes up to find out from Ebbets all about it. "I haven't much from Ebbets all about it. "I haven't much to say about the meeting," said Hanion, "because I wasn't out there. I guess it's all right, but just how the Brooklyn club fares I don't know, not having seen Ebbets."
"What influence or pressure was brought to bear on you to induce you to withdraw your injunction?" was a question put to

Secretary Knowles

"Our only object in getting the injunction." he replied, "was that we might have a hearing, and we had it. Points that were not clear to us before the meeting were made clear, and that being the case, we voted for the peace agreement. One point cleared up was about the location of the American League grounds in New York. The Peace Committee explained that it was not the intention to have the agreement make it mandatory that an American League club be placed here, as we had been led to infer from the agreement. For all we knew we might have been forced to assist the American in locating here.

"Again, as things now stand, the permission to the American League to enter New York refers only to Manhattan Island, and not to any of the five boroughs. We considered that if anywhere in Greater New York was meant it would have given the American too much scope—would have been doos weeping. In such an event they could have located on Staten Island or anywhere around the island, and so should a time come when amalgamation would be in order, would be in a position for recognition. They may get in yet by locating on the island, as they say they will, but I am no more convinced than I was before that they have grounds. One thing is sure, they were behind that rapid transit proposition, and, furthermore, if they have grounds they haven't shown our committee any evidences of it. There is nothing in the agreement to prevent us putting obstacles in their way in getting grounds if we want to. But, anyway, if they are coming in here they would have come, peace or no peace; and if they don't come in it does no harm to ratify the peace of the son of the son harm to ratify the peace of the son of the son harm to ratify the peace of the son of the so Secretary Knowles ... Our only object in getting the injunction.

Mr. Knowles's remarks about interleague games recalls a remark made last summer at the Polo Grounds by Jimmy Collins to The Sun reporter. "You may see me playing ball right on these grounds next year," said the Boaton manager. Prophetic words and words which make one wonder whether Collins knew what was in the wind.

Deleharty, Davis and Elberfeld go back to American League clubs, and Brooklyn loses Donovan, Kitson and Keeler. Confirmation on this score was furnished by Mr. Knowles. Unless, however, Delehanty returns the advance money paid him by the New York club when he signed, he cannot play anywhere. The New York club, said Mr. Rnowles, will do whatever it can to strengthen for the coming season. Since contract jumping is now a lost art, the pocketbook route is the only means left for increasing playing strength. Losing Delehanty, Davis and Elberfeld makes a yawning gap in the local team's ranks, and how the deficiencies will be overcome forms an awkward proposition.

Knowles said the National League stood closer together than it has in a long time, and he spoke highly of Herrman's business ability and common sense.

to Nat Ward of Brooklyn in the first game last night in the Montauk Academy's pro-fessional tournament. The final score was 125 to 106. Sneden made the pace from the 125 to 106. Sneden made the pace from the start, but Ward, who is a persistent player, stuck to him so closely that the issue was in doubt until the last. He made no less than nine scratches.

The fourteenth frame was unusually entertaining. It was at a critical period and crafty safety manœuvring was resorted to. Sneden risked a long ticklish shot and put the object ball away. He made two more hard shots, then got a break, and then after all his clever work failed on an easy side pocket attempt. Still he practically had the game clinched, and when, two frames later, Ward left him four balls needed to win, he ran them down in finished style.

Young Corbett Will Not Pay Any Attention to Yanger at Present.

The fact that John Hertz, manager of Benny Yanger, has posted $1,000 in Chicago to bind a match with Young Corbett, is not disturbing the latter. The featherweight champion, who is in town taking things easy, when asked what he had to say relative to Yanger's challenge, replied; "I am after McGovern now, and until I am convinced that there is no possibility of us coming together I will not talk business with anybody else. In the meantime I will have to ignore Yanger, not because I am afraid, but because I don't see how I can answer Yanger definitely until I have finished with McGovern."

Joe Vendig, the bookmaker, who was present at the time, said there is a chance of Young Corbett and Yanger coming together, provided the latter's manager will agree to a bet of $10,000 on the side. Vendig assumed that if the champion made up his mind to fight Yanger, he would insist on a big side wager. However, on this point Young Corbett remained silent. to Yanger at Present.

McPadden Wins in Fleree Fight With Tommy Sullivan.

St. Louis, Jan. 23.—One of the most brutal battles between featherweights ever pulled off in this city was witnessed at the West End Club last night. Hugh McPidden of New York and Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan were contenders. The men were to go twenty rounds, but Sullivan's seconds threw up the sponge in the eighth round, their man being so blinded with blood that he could not hope to make any defence. In the fourth round two fierce smashes broke Sullivan's nose.
